

Report- NLP assignment 3

A Neural Language Model was created and trained on the europarl corpus to predict the probability of sentences.

Result

After training, the perplexities of the sentences in the test split were calculated and the average perplexity among all the sentences is

1.2670991248959493